Read This Before You Order

ORDER EARLY before the supply of many varieties is exhausted. Stock will be reserved and shipped the latter part of April, unless we are notified otherwise. Dahlias ordered shipped before April 1st are sent only at purchasers risk of freezing, drying out, etc.

TERMS—Cash with order, or before shipment, by Money Order or Bank Draft, making all payable to name below. Stamps (5 or 2c) accepted on small order.

PREPAID—Everything in this catalog will be shipped, postpaid, anywhere in the U. S. at prices quoted, except where otherwise stated.

SUBSTITUTION—We do not substitute unless asked to do so in the order, but would suggest naming a few as a second choice.

OUR GUARANTEE—Every bulb, tuber or plant we send out is guaranteed true-to-name and will, on sufficient proof, replace the next season, any that blooms untrue. We also guarantee all Dahlias to be alive and arrive in good condition, after this our responsibility ceases. Notify us at once in case anything is unsatisfactory or does not grow, after planted a reasonable time. Return the tubers and we will replace them.

REFERENCE—U. S. National Bank, Portland,

NAME and ADDRESS—Please write your name and address very plain and address all letters, etc., to—

White Floral Company

PORTLAND,

OREGON.

To All Our Many Customers and Floral Friends:

WITH the coming of another planting season we are greatly pleased in presenting you with this, our 14th Annual Catalog and Cultural Guide.

The great popularity of the Dahlia is ever increasing. This is proven by the yearly increase in the number of dahlia shows and the large and enthusiastic attendance which they always receive.

The past season has been one of the best in the Northwest for the growing of wonderful dahlia blooms. This means more and better varieties planted this season and more shows and enthusiasm everywhere. Last season with us was also the best for producing superior quality tubers, and we feel certain that even the most critical will be fully satisfied with the stock we will send out.

In our descriptions we try not to exaggerate in any way, and in giving the colors, avoid such terms as 'eosine' and 'laelia pink', 'barium' or 'baryta yellow' or 'grenadine', 'bordeux' or 'rose doree', which mean little to the great majority.

We are proud to call your attention to our latest dahlia originations. Such creations as Nature's Masterpiece, Syncopation, Golden Emblem, Elizabeth White and Oregon Russet have a great future ahead and will be known nationally in a short time.

We thank you, one and all, for all favors in the past, and wish you even greater success in the growing of your dahlias etc., for this coming season.

DISCOUNT ON LARGE ORDERS

On all orders for Dahlias, Gladioli, Cannas and Bedding Plants (nothing else) amounting to $10.00 or more, you may select extra Dahlias (except collections) amounting to 10 per cent of the total, free of charge

If you receive more than one copy of our catalog, we will consider it a great favor if you will give the 'extra one' to a flower lover.

Orders to be Mailed Promptly

During April and early May, when we have the Big Rush of mail orders coming in at the same time that we have the heaviest greenhouse trade, it is generally impossible to keep up with all orders. This Spring we will have facilities for filling mail orders at night when such work can be done, without interruption.

Plant Dahlia Plants -- One-third cheaper than tubers.

All the Dahlias prefixed with a ★ in this catalog, can also be supplied in the form of Growing Plants, from 3 inch pots. Ready for delivery about May 10th to June 10th at prices stated below. They will be sent by parcel post Prepaid.

Prices are as follows:- (Price of Tubers in light face type and Plant price in dark face.)
50c varieties for 35c; 75c for 50c; $1.00 for 65c; $1.25 for 80c; $1.75 for $1.00; $2.00 for $1.25; $2.50 for $1.50; $3.50 for $2.00; $4.00 for $2.50; $5.00 for $3.25; $7.50 for $5.00 and $10.00 varieties for $6.00. All prices quoted in this catalog are for tubers.

Dahlia plants will give equal or better results than tubers, if given a little more care in their early growth. In our own Show Garden we have always used them whenever obtainable. This season we are much better prepared to grow them, and intend using them almost exclusively for our display plants. However, we do not recommend "plants" to the new beginner but will venture to say that they are preferred by practically all experienced growers and especially when prize-winning blooms are desired for the Fall Dahlia Shows. You will never know all about Dahlias before giving plants a fair trial.

Our experience and method of packing plants for shipment by parcel post, enables us to guarantee that they will arrive at their destination in perfect condition. They can be sent with safety for a distance requiring from three to four days in transit.

How To Grow Dahlias Successfully

The Dahlia of to-day is one of the easiest of all flowers to grow and will produce more flowers, size considered, than any other plant grown, if these simple cultural directions are followed closely. Prepare the soil thoroughly by spading the ground 12 to 18 inches deep in the Fall, if possible, and again in the Spring, pulverizing it as much as you can. If soil is quite sandy, some well rotted manure thoroly mixed in, will be of great help to hold the moisture.

Very heavy or clay soil is greatly benifited by adding some coarse sand or coal ashes. One of the best times to cultivate Dahlias, etc., is before you plant. Work your soil thoroly. If your soil will grow good potatoes, you can easily grow Dahlias and Gladioli successfully. On very poor soil work in a little well-rotted manure or bone meal, but don't overdo it. Don't plant Dahlias or Gladioli too near the roots of rank growing trees or shrubs.

When possible, give your dahlias a bed 6 feet wide, planting two rows down the middle. Select an open, sunny situation, although they do quite well in partial shade if given a little more space or keep well thinned out. Getting full benefit of all the morning sun only is ideal. Don't plant Dahlia roots too close. They should have at least three feet of space.

Don't plant too early. Dahlias dislike to bloom during the hot, dry, summer weather. They are really an Autumn flower and should not bloom till the summer is about over. From early May to first of June is the planting time we recommend for Portland and similar climates. This will give you flowers from the middle of August to heavy frost. However, those living near the ocean, or those having success with them flowering in the summer, plant in early April.

Never stand the tuber on end when planting. Lay flat in the hole 6 to 8 inches deep. The size of any tuber makes no difference as long as it has one good strong eye or sprout. Put sand under your bulb, 2 or 3 in. of soil over it, and the other 3 or 4 in. after it is up.

Allow only one sprout to grow from each tuber. You will get more and larger blooms. When plants have made their second or third set of leaves, pinch out the top—sure, we do. This causes the plant to grow a stout branch at the base of each of the four or six leaves left. If buds form on plants too young, pick them off—let the plants grow first and then bloom. Best fertilizer for young, growing Dahlia plants is the hoe and elbow grease every few days.

You can easily overwater, when plants are young, but you can not over cultivate them. It is much better not to water, than to allow a crust to form, after watering—cultivate lightly. Daily surface sprinklings do more harm than good—soak the beds thoroughly when needed. It is far better to give a dahlia seven buckets of water in one day, than 1 a day for 7 days. Dahlias like plenty of water when in bloom but can't stand wet feet. How is your drainage? To have the greatest success is to keep them growing, but as strong and sturdy as possible. You will get few, if any, blooms (and inferior) from growth that is hardened or stunted.

When buds appear, stop all deep cultivation and give the beds a mulch of manure, leaves, grass clippings, etc. If sufficient mulching is not available, make a shallow basin around each plant, and fill well with mulching. Every week or ten days, scatter more manure or other fertilizer over the beds. Feeding in liquid form is best but don't give too much at one time.

If you want larger Dahlias and of greater substance with longer, stronger stems—disbud. When the size of peas, pinch off all buds in a cluster except the largest, unless it is deformed.

To help prevent disease, give your Dahlias a shower bath daily, during dry, hot weather. Never leave Dahlias in the ground over winter. Store in a frost proof place, like potatoes.

A few days after the tops have been blackened by a heavy frost, late in the Fall, cut them off and dig carefully so as not to break the necks of tubers. Remove most of the soil, but not necessarily all of it. If possible, dig on a sunny day, allowing clumps to dry as much as possible before storing, cutting off the remaining hollow stalk as close to tubers as you can. If troubled with wet rot, turn clumps upside down or, split stalk and clump in halves.

KEEPING DAHLIA BLOOMS WHEN CUT—Cut flowers as late as possible in the the dew is still on them. Cut with long stems in almost boiling water for 20 seconds to one minute, depending on length and texture of the stem. Then immediately submerge them in a cool place, away from all draft for a couple of hours, or till wanted for your vases. The more of the stem you can have in the water in your vases, the longer the blooms will keep fresh. When cutting dahlia blooms try and select those that are in their prime, as those not fully developed will wilt easily.

(White's I. W., 5.) “NATURE’S MASTERPIECE” ‘Utterly different’.

At the Northwest Trial Grounds of the A. D. S., at the Washington State College, Puyallup Wash.,

‘I. W. 5’ scored 93 points, the highest of any Dahlia at any A. D. S. Trial Gardens.

And it did this under the very adverse growing conditions that prevailed, owing to a lack of moisture.

Nature was so generous in her use of colors in this wonder creation, that, ever since it first bloomed some four years ago, we have wondered how we would describe its peculiar but fascinating shade. Here is our feeble attempt. A most elegant, rich combination of old rose, cinnamon and metallic bronze, blended into one color, suffused with mulberry. In addition to this its effectiveness is increased by a violet shaded reflex. Nothing better in the dahlia world to-day. See more description page 5. April delivery Tubers, $15.00 NET.

"GOLDEN EMBLEM" The yellow with a future.

Received the Certificate of Merit at the Northwest Trial Gardens at Puyallup, Wash.

After giving through trial we are convinced that this wonder of wonders is one of, if not the finest, largest, purest, deep rich yellow dahlias in existence today. A clear, golden yellow, without shading or any traces of any other color whatsoever. The huge flowers, 9 to 10 in. across, are of the most artistic and refined form imaginable with their high centers and long, wavy, recurving petals. Blooms are erect on long, wiry stems, far above foliage. Of fine substance, keep extra well when cut. Early, free and constant bloomer. Tubers, $7.50 NET.

NOW BEING OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME

AUTUMN GIANT—A monster of an ideal autumn shade. See illustration and description on page 30.

NATURE'S MASTERPIECE—A most wonderful dahlia that will soon gain a national reputation, as one of the greatest dahlias of all. It's enormous size, great depth, wonderful coloring and strong growth with cane-like stems holding blooms perfectly erect, is unsurpassed. Of no less importance is it's petal formation; as near perfect as possible with petals giving a refined, wavy appearance, having no sign of coarseness. See page 3 for color and price.

SACAJAWEA—(No. I. W. 12)—Peony-flowered—In color and shape of petals, is similar to our 'Pacific Sunset', but stems are even longer and very erect on tall, healthy plants. The small petals clustered around the center are so numerous at times, the blooms look 'freakish'. Soft apricot and buff, suffused salmon red. Very fine. Each, $3.50

SYNCOPE—Decorative Cactus—Almost everyone that sees this big jazzy colored dahlia in our gardens is "just crazy about it". If you like bright bi-color combinations, this wonderful, large sort will make an irresistible appeal to you. Buff yellow with center of each petal a deep cherry red, blending together beautifully. Very distinct. Strong, vigorous grower of medium height with large, leathery foliage and long stout stems that hold the blooms in a perfectly erect position, far above the foliage. One of the most effective for the garden or exhibition. Probably the best 1926 novelty on the market for the price we ask. Nothing like it. Each, $5.00

White's Winning Wonders of 1925

BLUSHING MONARCH—Decorative Cactus — Produces huge, massive flowers; perfect form and great depth with extra heavy, long stems. Glistening pearly white, lightly flushed pale rose. Of very rank, branching growth, needing a little thinning after mid-season. An unusual creation that has been greatly admired at our gardens. Good multiplier. Hence, a large stock allows this reasonable price. Each, $2.50

ELIZABETH WHITE—A real giant of a dreamy coral, salmon and pink combination. See page 29.

INDEPENDENCE—An immense heavy flower with cane-like stems. See page 29.

MOONLIGHT GLOW — Full-petaled Peony type — This is one of the largest of all, with broad petals and tiny florets clustered around the center. Color is a soft salmon-pink, flushed with delicate pastel rose on outer petals and shading to a creamy glow at the heart; the whole flower overlaid with an ashes of roses sheen. A strong, robust grower and splendid stems. You'll like this one. Each, $3.50

OREGON RUSSET — Peony-flowered type — This is always a revelation to all who see it in bloom in our display gardens. Of giant size and beautiful, informal shape with curling petaloids around center. Early and profuse bloomer with splendid stems, lasting exceptionally well as a cut flower. A distinct and very attractive color hard to describe. The center of flower is a rich golden ochre, quickly blending to bronzy salmon and heavily shaded sunset red on outer half of petals. Medium height. A wonderful 'wonder' that we can be justly proud of. Each, $5.00

SUN-KISSED — Decorative Cactus — A soft golden yellow touched with a coppery tint on outer petals. Good yellow dahlias are not plentiful, and for size, freedom and continuity of bloom, few dahlias can equal this one. A wonderfully showy garden plant looking as if it were a huge bouquet. A rapid, healthy grower of medium height with the monster flowers and stems held very erect. Each, $4.00

SPECIAL OFFER—One tuber each of Blushing Monarch, Moonlight Glow & Sun-kissed for only $6.50

WHITE'S WINNING WONDERS

OF PREVIOUS INTRODUCTION

AUTUMN GLORY—Immense peony flowered bronzy cinnamon, and terra-cotta. Strong grower; long, graceful stems; a free and constant bloomer, T. e. g. Each, $1.00

Autumn Marvel—The color is a most beautiful pure, golden buff. The blooms are large of the full peony type. Upright grower, constant bloomer and extra long, stems, T.g.c. .50

Bronze Giant—Decorative— Generally, we prefer names that give some idea of the color, etc. of a flower. In this, the name is about all that is necessary. Of a rich brownish bronze, almost globular in it's form on stout stems. D e.g. Each, $2.00

GLENDENNING—Decorative—Is similar in form to our "Jack London", which has become such a big favorite. An elegant glowing crimson, with a darker center. Ideal upright grower with huge flowers erect on extra long, strong stems above the foliage. Something more than just another red dahlia. T. e.g.c. $2.00

JACK LONDON— Red decoratives are quite numerous, but no one could resist this, when seen growing in our Gardens. Strong, erect growth; stems are long. The large blooms are held upright and the color is a dazzling vermilion scarlet, T. e. g. c. $1.00

Lady Valdine—Decorative—Produces large flowers from early till late on extra fine, long stems. It has a rather new color tone, best described as deep bluish lavender, having a decided bluish cast at twilight. Strong grower, T.g.c. $1.50

Orange Brilliant—Peony-Dec.— A glistening semi-ball in a distinct pure orange shade, on fine stems. In offering this we feel it will appeal strongly to those who wish something bright and cheerful, easily grown and useful for bouquets and garden decoration. In these respects it's hard to beat, D. g.c. $1.50

ORVILLE A. STEVENS—Ideal Peony dahlia on strong, erect stems for cutting. Distinct light orange scarlet color. A strong, upright habit and blooms very freely, T. g. c. .30

SPECIAL—We will send postpaid, one tuber each of BRONZE GIANT & LADY VALDINE for, $2.50

AUTUMN MARVEL

OREGON SUNSET— Giant Peony-flowered blooms of rich golden yellow, heavily suffused with bronzy crimson. Free flowering and a vigorous grower; fine stems, M. e. g. c. $1.00

PACIFIC SUNSET— An immense Peony, often over 10 in. across, and looks every bit as large as it measures, as each petal is over $2\frac{1}{4}$ in. in width almost its entire length. The color is a soft and very pleasing shade of salmon buff, suffused with apricot on the outer half of the petals. An ideal autumn shade and a free bloomer. The stems are strong and extra long. Last but not least, it is more FRAGRANT than any of the other so-called, sweet scented dahlias ever introduced. Stock limited. Each, \$5.00 Strong plants (ready May 15th.) Each, \$3.00

Pride of Portland— (Peony type) Is quite similar to the ever popular 'Geisha' in color, but the yellow is brighter and the red richer; A healthy, robust grower, blooming constantly. Large size; fine stems, T e.g.c. $1.00

EXPLANATION—Capitals after descriptions signify the height: T, grows above 4 ft.; M, Medium; and D, under 3 ft. (e), the best for exhibition; (g), for garden; (c), for cut flowers

CACTUS DAHLIAS

Probably the most popular type of the Dahlia family. Many resemble the Chrysanthemum in form and have an unlimited range of colors. Most have incurved, narrow petals; some are almost straight and others quite broad.

ALEX. KENNEDY—Large dark crimson on long stems. Form of 'F. W. Fellows,' T. .75

AMBER GLOW—Bright yellow, orange tinted center. Immense size; narrow petals. $1.00

A. R. PERRY—Pleasing old rose with base and tips of incurved petals gold, M. .50

AUBURN BEAUTY—Light bronze, passing to buff center. Distinct form and color. .30

BALLET GIRL—An extra large, deep flower; a mass of narrow incurved petals of pure orange, white with orange base and other variations of these colors on the same bush. Free flowering; very attractive, M.e.g. $1.25

BONNIE G.—Pure, soft pink. Strong grower, producing its large blooms well above foliage in great profusion. With all lovers of pink dahlias this wonderful new variety is bound to be a great favorite, T. e. g. c. $1.50

BORDER KING—Large, incurved flower of deep, rich glowing scarlet. A beautiful exhibition variety and its long, stout, upright stems and freedom of bloom makes this an ideal dahlia for any purpose, M.e.g.c. .60

BRITISHER—Large, rich crimson red with incurved petals and long stems, M. g. c. .50

CAMBRIAN—A yellowish salmon of irregularly incurved form. Upright habit, T. .30

CANARY—Pure, clear yellow of the perfect incurved type. Fine erect habit, M. g. .50

CARONA—A giant yellow with very narrow nearly straight petals: strong growth, T.e. .75

Many Dahlias Not Listed

If you do not find the varieties you want in this catalog, write us. We have many of which stock is too limited this season to catalog. But we will be glad to quote you our lowest prices on them.

TESTIMONIALS?

Yes, we have them—our files are full of them, but we have never had much space or desire to have them in full dress, parading thru our catalogs.

Are Our Dahlia Trials Very Extensive?

During the past several years we have thoroughly tested the merits of about 2000 named varieties of Dahlias. Out of this number we have discarded all but about 500 of them. This leaves the "the survival of the fittest" listed in our catalog. Draw your own conclusions.

COLLARETTE DAHLIAS

These are the freest bloomers, having long stems and make fine, lasting cut-flowers. Flowers are single, with a second row of short petals, or collar, usually of a contrasting color. The individual blooms are almost perfection in form and a dozen or more make a most artistic and showy bouquet.

TYPES OF COLLARETTE DAHLIAS

True English Single Type

The constant attention which this, gay but demure type of Dahlia commands at all our exhibits is remarkable. Their miniature size is in keeping with their precise and perfect formation. Whether it is just one bush to supply your breakfast nook bouquets, or a whole bed for the elaborate party, these most generous and untiring bloomers can be counted on to furnish distinct and charming decorations.

Tubers (except those priced), 25c each.

Mixed Dahlia Tubers

We never have, and hope we never will find it necessary to catalog or sell cheap, unnamed or mixed dahlia tubers. To us, this seems to cheapen them unjustly, and we love the 'king of autumn flowers' too much for that.

GLADIOLI

THE CUT FLOWER
PRE-EMINENT

The most beautiful and attractive of all summer flowering bulbs are the newer Gladioli. Such a rapid improvement has been made during the past few years in the size, color and beauty of these flowers, that the result is wonderful. If cut when the first buds open and allowed to develop indoors, every bud will open and the size and color will be more perfect than if left in the sun. The spikes will continue to open additional buds for a week or two weeks, according to the variety and conditions.

THE MODERN GLADIOLI

5c. each; 50c., dozen; $3.50 per 100

All with a (*) $\frac{1}{2}$ size bulbs, 12 for 25c

AMERICA—Beautiful soft flesh pink, tinted with delicate lavender. Large, open flowers.

Attraction—Bright carmine; white throat.

BLACK HAWK—Deep, rich cardinal with throat nearly black. Early.

Crackerjack—Rich dark crimson with lighter throat. Long spikes; wide open flowers.

Halley—Large open flower of a beautiful salmon pink. Without doubt one of the best.

Ida Van—Very pleasing shade of orange red.

Independence—Light flame pink with dark red throat. Tall and vigorous growth.

Mrs. Fran. King — One of the most attractive and popular Gladioli. Striking shade of light scarlet or flame color. Very large.

Princepine—Bright red, with a conspicuous pure white throat; exceedingly attractive.

Velvet King—A most reliable rich red sort; large and early. Ideal for large beds.

Wine King—A clear purple-wine color.

CULTURE— You can plant a Gladiolus bulb in most any kind of soil and it will bloom, but attention to a few simple details will produce superior results. Sound healthy bulbs and a sunny situation is the most important. Successive plantings in the same place should be avoided when possible. Plant 3 to 5 inches apart and to a depth of 4 to 6 inches, depending on size of bulb and character of soil. May be planted as early as the end of March or as late as the middle of June. By planting at intervals during this time you will have flowers all season. Cultivate often until flower spikes appear, then if possible, cover the ground with a mulch and water thoroughly when in bloom. Dig in November (or sooner if foliage begins to ripen) on a sunny day if possible, so as to allow them to dry off well before storing in a cool, dry, frost-proof place. Cut off the tops close up to the bulb, as soon as dug.

ONE-HALF SIZE BULBS— These medium sized corms will produce equally as large flowers as will the largest corms, but not such a long spike, and the next season they will be in their prime. April planting gives best results. Not sold in less quantities than 12 or 6 of a variety as stated in this catalog.

ELIZABETH WHITE

'ELIZABETH WHITE'

Giant Decorative

For several years we have wanted to name a dahlia in memory of our mother. Naturally, it had to be something appropriate and of the highest possible merit and that would soon become a universal favorite, and remain such. In this new wonder creation we have found our ideal. The giant flowers, 8 and 9 in. in diameter, are of very perfect and refined form. The long, individual stems are all that one could ask for, and no extra large dahlia will bloom better. The color is simply beautiful and pleases everyone. Best described as a rich combination of coral pink and salmon, intensified by a bright amber-like glow at the base of petals and throughout the entire flower. An ideal grower of medium height. Each, $5.00

'INDEPENDENCE'

A 1925 Giant Decorative

If you want long, cane-like stems, you want 'Independence'. The picture to the right can give you very little idea of the massive stateliness of this mammoth new dahlia. Blooms are 8 to 9 inches across and 6 to 7 inches in depth. Imagine these heavy blossoms standing most rigidly erect on the finest of stems, looking you right in the eye. Plants are of sturdy growth and medium height. The color is an attractive deep mauve pink or lilac. Withstands more abuse from rain and storms than most any other large dahlia we have ever grown. Late in some seasons this changes to a beautiful giant peony dahlia, admired by all as much or even more so than when fully double. Each, $5.00

A 1926
Introduction

“AUTUMN GIANT”

(G. W. 2)

A magnificent, giant peony-flowered dahlia with exceptional cane-like stems that, by disbudding, can be cut three feet in length. It is one of those beautiful autumn shades in color. A glistening golden bronze with center petals of a bronzy tint. Of wonderful form, with an ideal upright habit of growth and large, healthy, clean cut, out standing foliage. The blooms are held at just the right angle for best effect, far above the foliage, and keep extra well when cut. Much like the Eastern “Myra Valentine” in color and form, but is larger with longer, stronger stems. Each, $7.50

CHOICE ANNUAL FLOWER SEEDS

We are pleased to offer for your consideration the following flower seeds. It is not a very extensive list, but the best strains possible in the most popular and useful flowers

All Annuals grow to full maturity and bloom the first year and then perish. Many will do better if started early inside and transplanted when an inch or two high after middle of April.

Except where priced, all packets are 10c each, or 3 for 25c.

ASTERS

In the past few years the Aster has probably become the most popular of annuals. They grow to perfection in our mild, cool climate. No other annual makes such a garden display during the late summer and fall months. A grand cut flower. They require a rich, moist soil.

OREGON GIANTS—The finest strain of the famous fluffy Comet type yet produced. In bloom from mid-August thru September.

Pure White Rose Pink Purple
Shell Pink Crimson Mixed
Pacific Beauty — Best lavender.

California Giants—Latest in flowering of all types and probably the largest. Unusually vigorous in growth. Of lasting substance.

Peach Blossom Light Blue
Rose Pink Deep Purple Mixed.

Sensation—The reddish of all red asters.
